

WASHINGTON — Ambitious economists are downgrading their forecasts, and some crucial sectors of the economy are pushing the likelihood of a rebound into next year because of the abrupt slowdown in the economic recovery.

She is beautiful!

The report, examining a country with nearly half a million residents, is the first large-scale study to link the drug with nerve damage, which is marked by weakness, tingling, difficulty walking and pain.

That is an ugly car.

Adjectives

That was a hard test!

Vivendi CEO optimistic on company future

Vivendi Universal CEO Jean-Benoit Fourtou said Sunday that he expects the debt-laden media giant to survive, thanks in part to 2 billion euros in bank financing expected in September.

Gary is a slow poke.

SAN FRANCISCO — A class system is developing among cellphone users.

High-paying subscribers are lavished with perks, such as faster customer support and instant resolution of billing problems.