

Patriotism- the Spirit of America

Patriotism is the love of one's country. It includes attachment to the country's land and people, admiration for its customs and tradition, pride in its history, and devotion to its welfare. Patriotism has existed in all ages among most peoples.

Betsy Ross showed a lot of patriotism during the Revolutionary War. By the request of George Washington, she made the great American flag. Ross didn't have to, but she did and now she has been known as a legend. Since the Revolutionary War, America has been proud to hang the great flag. The flag is now one of America's most prized positions.

When I see an American flag, I think of George Washington and Betsy Ross. The American flag makes me feel proud and I am glad that I live in this free country .Some day I want to go and see the original American flag because I want to see how old it looks. In some pictures, it looks like the American flag is way bigger than they say. I feel free whenever I see the American flag and when I pledge allegiance to the flag it makes me feel proud.

The flag reminds me of brave soldiers fighting for our country. The American flag is on the moon to show that America has been on the moon. The flag has survived all of these years and we are reminded by a picture of soldiers holding it up during WW2.
